FOUR SEEKING SPEAKERSHIP

TAFT OUT FOR FLOOR LEADER

Dozen Candidates In the Race For Sergeant-at-Arms — Ohio Good Roads Federation Prepares Highway Budget For the General Assembly—Survey Made by the Federation.

Columbus, Dec. 2.—Republican members of the house of representatives will caucus here Dec. 18 or 19, according to Representative Harry D. Silver of Preble county, ranking member of the house, who polled the membership, and the majority is said to favor either of these dates. Republican senators will caucus Wednesday, Dec. 10.

There are four active candidates for the speakership. They are Gilbert Morgan, attorney of Cleveland; Harry D. Silver, farmer; Allen C. McDonald, attorney, Dayton, and Robert L. Rohr, newspaper manager of Tiffin. Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati, author of the tax bill bearing his name, has announced his candidacy for speaker pro tem, which carries with it the position of majority floor leader. The other avowed candidate is Justin W. Harding, Warren county.

Announcement of Senator G. M. Kumler of Preble county that he is not a candidate for president pro tem of the senate, which carries the majority floor leadership, apparently leaves Senator Joseph R. Gardner without opposition for the position. Neither John E. Maynard nor Joseph E. Cross, clerks of the house and the senate, have announced opposition for re-election. Edward E. Hughes, assistant clerk of the house and parliamentarian for the legislature, also is unopposed.

There are a dozen candidates for sergeant-at-arms in the senate, as follows: C. W. King, mayor of New Lexington and former state senator; David A. Liggitt of Logan county, also a former state senator and unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor; Dr. Morton W. Bland of Columbus, former state registrar of vital statistics; A. C. Baxter, former state fish and game superintendent; Dr. C. J. Nichols of Marion, Frank McCullough of Bellefontaine; F. M. Ackerman of Lake county, a former sergeant-at-arms; Rev. J. W. Carroll of Delaware; C. H. Teach of Columbus, Jesse Cochran of Columbus, F. M. Everts of Norwalk and Harry D. Knox of Marietta.

Dr. Alfred Robinson of Ironton, present sergeant-at-arms of the house, will be opposed by John D. Thomas of Columbus, his third assistant. Both were candidates two years ago, Robinson winning out.

State Highway Budget.

The Ohio Good Roads federation and the state highway department, with the co-operation of local road officials, have completed a statewide survey of highway conditions, and results of this survey are being compiled into a definite budget for presentation to the general assembly.

At meetings held in key cities of the 11 divisions of the highway department, local officials were asked to make suggestions as to improvements on state highways, surfacing, resurfacing, widening, grading, bridges, elimination of grade crossing and needed new roads. Estimated costs of these improvements were submitted by representatives of the federation and the highway department, and recommendation of the state agencies were made. After exchanges of views, agreement was reached on virtually every improvement suggested in counties of the state, according to W. A. Alsdorf, executive secretary of the federation.

Hitherto the highway department has submitted its budget in more or less of a lump sum. The legislature has appropriated a certain amount and the highway department has constructed as much road as the appropriation would permit. This time, however, the legislature will know that when it is appropriating, say $5,000,000, the money will be used to build so many miles of road here, so many there, to eliminate this grade crossing and that grade crossing, to resurface this road and that road. The needs of the state's roads will be placed before the solons item by item, and they will judge whether the state can afford to provide remedies.

BRUTALITY ALLEGED

Charges Against Attendants at State Hospital to Be Probed.

Columbus, Dec. 2.—Assistant Welfare Director John McNamara said that a thorough investigation would be made of the charges of brutality against three attendants at Newburgh state hospital. No report had been received by the welfare department of the charges or issuing of warrants against the attendants, McNamara said, and action by the department will await either official report from Dr. Guy H. Williams, hospital superintendent, or return of Welfare Director John Harper.

A dispatch from Cleveland states that torture to patients at the State Hospital at Newburg is charged in a warrant for the arrest of three attendants there. The warrant was sworn by Battalion Fire Chief John Speddy of Cleveland. He charges that the attendants beat Speddy's brother, blackening his eye and breaking two ribs, and confined him to a strait-jacket all night, in front of an open window, after having beaten him.

DISSATISFIED WITH TOLEDO SITUATION

State Action May Be Sequel of Recent Liquor Raids.

Columbus, Dec. 2.—It was stated at the capitol that State Prohibition Commissioner B. F. McDonald is not satisfied with the situation at Toledo and state action is a possibility.

It is known Commissioner McDonald conferred with Governor Donahey, but he would make no comment concerning whether or not he might ask the governor to take action. He intimated, however, that he was displeased with the efforts of the Toledo prohibition enforcement officials and that he might make a statement in regard to the Toledo situation within a few days.

State prohibition inspectors made 85 purchases in Toledo during a few days spent there more than a week ago, they said. It was also learned that 67 arrests resulted from the raids which followed the procuring of this evidence.

Officials see in this alleged condition a situation similar to that in Canton which led to charges against the mayor and safety director and their subsequent removal by Governor Donahey. Although McDonald refused to comment on this possible course the somewhat analagous situation is believed to be significant. Criticism by local officials of the state prohibition department and its method of trying cases in other than municipal courts is also understood to be behind the department's recent raids and activities in Toledo.

REPORT URGES EARLY ACTION

Senate Expected to Pass the Deficiency Appropriation Bill Without Delay and Make Way For Consideration of Muscle Shoals Bills—Needs of Country's Rivers and Harbors Pointed Out.

Washington, Dec. 2.—The senate today began consideration of the deficiency appropriation bill, which was held up in the closing moments of the last session of congress.

Republican leaders reframed the bill so that Senator Pittman of Nevada will get an appropriation of $500,000 for the Spanish Springs irrigation project, and it is now expected the entire bill may be adopted speedily to make way for consideration of Muscle Shoals bills.

The house passed a resolution presented by Representative Garrett (Dem., Tenn.) setting aside Monday, Dec. 15, for joint memorial services by the house and senate for former President Woodrow Wilson. A committee of seven, headed by Representative Bachrach of New Jersey, was named by Speaker Gillett to arrange the services for the house.

Work on the country's rivers, harbors and waterways will require $71,604,980 during the year beginning July 1, 1925. Recommendations for the various projects were made by the chief of engineers of the army, under whose direction this work is carried on, in his annual report submitted to congress with the 1926 fiscal year estimates.

A strong reaffirmation by congress that the United States is determined to maintain permanently a merchant marine "commensurate with the needs of the country from the standpoint of commerce and national defense," was recommended in the annual report of the shipping board. The board also recommended that a joint committee be created, composed of representatives of the board and the interstate commerce commission, to co-ordinate rail and water transportation; prohibition by law of preferential arrangements between American railroads and foreign shipping lines, and exemption from taxation of all earnings from American shipping in foreign trade.

In his annual report, Comptroller of the Currency Dawes laid before congress the claims of the national banking system of the country for legislative consideration placing them on even terms with other financial institutions. Mr. Dawes declared that the disparity between the position of national banks and state and private banks and other financial institutions must be removed through more liberal treatment of the national institutions and by according them more privileges from the government. Only through granting them such powers as he recommended in his report, he believed, could they check a waning of their influence and strength.

The comptroller mentioned that twice in the history of this government the national banks had proved the vehicle for the nation's wartime fiscal operations, and that in each case their operations were larger than anything about which the world had known prior to their successful conclusion.

President Coolidge today transmitted his annual budget to congress. Wednesday he will submit his own annual message, which will be read in both houses.

Rev. V. Sheatsley, Bexley Minister, Makes Public Address.

Columbus, Dec. 2.—Rev. C. V. Sheatsley, speaking to Capital university students at chapel, gave thanks in his first public address since the Bexley tragedy, that the blameless conduct of the past life of every member enabled his family "to clear itself of the suspicion of the foulest of crimes." "If our family, by the grace of God had not been living as becometh Christians," Rev. Mr. Sheatsley said, "we could never have cleared out skirts of the foulest of crimes. But thank God we have been found blameless and the spirit of this institution has helped us so to live." He announced he would resume his Bible classes at the university.

He contended that Kuczik is mentally incompetent. The appeal was opposed by Assistant Prosecutor Walter Wanamaker.

WILL SEEK TAX REDUCTION

Railroads of the Country Organizing for a Drive.

TAXES DOUBLED IN DECADE

Rail Executives Hold It Unfair to Limit Railway Earnings and at the Same Time to Increase Their Taxes—Sum of $77,000,000 Collected From Railroads by the Federal Government Last Year.

Washington, Dec. 2.—A reduction in railway taxes next year will be sought by the nation's railroads, it was learned here. The roads are organizing to impress upon the federal and state governments that it is unfair to limit railway earnings and at the same time to increase their taxes, rail executives say.

Taxes paid by railways have doubled during the last 10 years. In 1913 the railways paid to the federal government and to the states a total of $[illegible],586,859. In 1923 the amount had grown to $331,915,459. That the totals were still mounting was indicated when the taxes for the first six months of the present year came to $162,083,697, or $44,000,000 more than for the whole year of 1913. It is estimated that the present rate of taxation is approximately 10 per cent of all income derived by railways through their freight business.

In 1913 the federal government collected approximately $10,000,000 in railroad taxes. Last year the amount was $77,000,000. The states which collect the heaviest taxes are New York, Pennsylvania, California and Illinois, though all states collect something from the lines.

In 1922, for the first time in history, the total amount of dividends fell below the total amount of taxes. In that year the railroad's tax bill was $1,000,000, while the dividends paid [illegible] by nearly $20,000,000, or [illegible],000.

Railways, unlike other businesses, are taxed on their investment rather than on their earnings. This the railroad officials regard as unfair and cite the excess of taxes over dividends as proof of their argument. Complaint is also made of the restriction of railway earnings, a problem other corporations do not have to contend with.

KORETZ QUIZZED

Tells Prosecutor How He Promoted Fake Oil Scheme.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—State's Attorney Crowe declared that Leo Koretz, who is charged with operating a fake Panama oil scheme, told all about his method of promotion, which is said to have extracted $2,000,000 from friends and acquaintances. Koretz fled from Chicago a year ago and was arrested last week in Halifax. He told the state's attorney his dabbling in the fields of frenzied finance started 18 years ago, purely by accident, he said, and ended just a year ago, after the Bayano oil stocks had soared to dizzy heights and then dropped to zero. Many years ago, Koretz told Crowe, a friend who had performed some service for the government of Panama was given some land there and succeeded in interesting Koretz, the latter inducing some of his friends to invest $10,000 in the project. Koretz said soon after this he went to Panama and found he and his friends had bought swamp lands. He wanted his money back, he said, so began selling portions of the 5,000,000 acres of wooded land which he did not own. The customers, however, were not readily attracted, Koretz told Crowe, and in order to increase business, Koretz announced the discovery of oil, after which he took in $2,000,000.

HOOVER SCANS REPORT

Standardization of Motor Traffic Regulations Recommended.

Washington, Dec. [illegible].—Secretary of Commerce Hoover has before him the recommendations of the traffic control committee of the national conference on street and highway safety, which seeks the standardization of motor traffic regulations.

The committee urges standardization of speed regulations throughout the country, with a provision that speed in excess of 35 miles an hour in rural areas shall be considered prima facie evidence of reckless driving and that the burden of proof of its reasonableness shall rest upon the operator. The committee's report will be presented at the meeting of the conference here Dec. 15.

In discussing the advantages of maintaining a speed average for all vehicles on heavily traveled roads, the committee declares that the excessively slow vehicle may be as serious a menace to traffic as the speed maniac. In this respect, however, it deems education preferable to legislation.

Standardization of rules governing the conduct of travelers on the highways and examination for licensing of all vehicle operators, with a ban on the mentally or physically unfit, as well as persons under 16 years of age and those who can not read English, also are urged by the committee.

MORTIMER TESTIFIES

Swears He Was Promised Part of the Contractors' Profits.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Testifying at the trial of Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former head of the Veterans' bureau, Elias H. Mortimer, special agent of the department of justice, said he was promised 35 per cent of the contractor's profits in the erection of government hospitals.

Mortimer said he acted as Washington agent for the firm of Thompson & Black, a St. Louis contracting company, and was active in getting the hospital contracts for his employers. His share of the profit was to be 35 per cent, he said. Colonel Forbes and John W. Thompson of the St. Louis firm appeared in court as defendants. They are charged with defrauding the government of huge sums of money. James W. Black, Thompson's former partner, is dead.

Mortimer testified that Thompson and Black offered Forbes the position of director of their oil projects in Colombia. "Mr. Forbes turned down this offer," the witness said, but he went on to tell of numerous meetings between Forbes, Thompson, Black and himself at which the matter was discussed. Once, he said, Forbes went to New York and held several conferences with the St. Louis men in their hotel suite. The witness testified it was he who paid Forbes' hotel bill on this trip.

Kill Orchard Mice With Poisoned Bait

Outline of Effectual and Inexpensive Formula.

Mice and other rodents are beginning their destructive winter's work in the orchard. For this reason steps should be taken by growers to protect the fruit trees, says A. Freeman Mason, extension specialist in fruit growing at the New Jersey College of Agriculture in New Brunswick.

Clearing grass and rubbish away from the tree trunks and mounding the trunks with earth will protect the trees to a certain extent. Mechanical devices such as wire netting and tarred paper may be used, but in most cases, poisoning will prove an effectual and inexpensive method of controlling destructive rodents.

The United States Department of Agriculture recommends the following formula: Mix together, dry, ⅛ ounce of powdered strychnine and ⅛ ounce of baking soda. Sift the strychnine-soda mixture over 1 quart of rolled oats, stirring constantly to insure an even distribution of the poison through the grain. Heat the poisoned rolled oats in an oven until thoroughly warm. Mix 3 parts of melted beef fat with 1 part of melted paraffin, and sprinkle 6 tablespoonfuls of this mixture over the warm, poisoned rolled oats, mixed until the oats are evenly coated. Allow the grain to cool and it is ready for use.

If large quantities of the bait are needed, use 1 ounce of strychnine, 1 ounce of soda, 8 quarts of rolled oats and 1¼ pints of the beef-fat-paraffin mixture. It is very important to have the beef-fat-paraffin mixture hot and the poisoned rolled oats thoroughly warm, otherwise it will not be possible to obtain an even coating.

Tablespoonful quantities of the poisoned oats should be put in containers placed in the orchard. If mice are very abundant, a container should be used under every tree.

All poisoned baits and poison containers and utensils used in the preparation of poisoned baits should be kept plainly labeled and out of the reach of children, irresponsible persons and live stock.

To Protect Fruit Trees From Mice and Rabbits

A good remedy to protect fruit trees from mice is to break down mice burrows, and follow that by spreading poison bait about. Sweet potatoes, cut into grape size, make good bait when sprinkled with strychnia sulphate, one ounce to one bushel of bait. The bait is first soaked in a tub of water, then the poison, usually mixed with baking powder, is sifted over it from a salt shaker. A few pieces of bait are placed under each tree in wide-necked bottles, under boards or in open tunnels so that chickens and live stock will not come in contact with them.

To protect trees from rabbits, a heavy galvanized wire, about one-quarter inch mesh, serves well when put around the base of the tree and extending about 20 inches up from the ground. Newspapers or corn stalks wrapped around the tree with binder twine make less expensive protectors, but should be removed early in the spring.

Cutting Cordwood Will Serve Two Big Purposes

Many farmers have begun cutting cordwood. It is entirely possible to so conduct this operation that the yield is not lessened, while the remaining stand is left in better condition than it ordinarily is, says H. H. Tryon, forestry specialist at Clemson college.

Many farm woodlots will show a high percentage of suppressed, overtopped and generally crowded and backward trees. Such stock should be removed for the good of the forest. Cordwood cutting furnishes a good outlet for this stock, even though only a few cords for domestic consumption are used.

Farm Hints

Exercise is nature's preventive of digestive troubles in live stock.

Careful dairymen have found that warm and cold cream never mix satisfactorily.

An ounce of carbon disulphide prevention will save more than a bushel of corn from weevils.

If pure bred live stock continues to increase at the present rate, it will be doubled in America by 1953.

With gasoline and electric power in modern farming, the old gray mare doesn't need to be what she used to be.

No agricultural college has yet announced whether it is worse to give good feed to scrub cows, or to give scrub feed to good cows.

There is difference of opinion as to the relative value of the common and Grimm wheat varieties, but the Grimm is steadily increasing in favor.

Old crank case oil from the flivver or the tractor applied to the hogs, either from a rubbing post covered with oil-soaked burlap, or sprayed on, helps to keep down lice and mange mites.

Circleville, O., R. F. D. 6, September 29, 1924.

Mrs. Edward H. Wardell, winner of Grand Sweep Stakes for best dozen eggs in show in Ohio State university, held February, 1924, says:

Mr. F. L. Fickardt, Dear Sir:—

I am only too glad to recommend Fickardt's Roup and Cholera Drops to any one interested in poultry, as the best preventative for contagious diseases I know of, on the market today. About three years ago cholera broke out in my flock of young chickens, which were then about six weeks old, and weighing about 1½ pounds. There were 175 birds in this flock. As soon as I discovered they were sick I began treating them according to instructions of a specialist. I only lost eleven out of 175, and checked the disease in about three days. At that time Fickardt's Roup and Cholera Drops was recommended to me as a wonderful medicine to be used as a preventive of contagious diseases. At that time I began using the Drops and have not had an epidemic since, altho I lose one or two now and then from common causes such as apopiexy, egg-bound, etc. I begin giving it to the chicks when they are quite young and from that time on they are never without it. At the present time I am shipping two cases of eggs a week and have been for the last six months from my flock of 180 hens and I attribute this high egg production to the healthy condition of my flock. I always grade and candle my eggs and I have attained such a degree of perfection that I have less than three per cent of my eggs that do not run over the specified weight of 24 ounces to the dozen. Sincerely,

Mrs. Edward H. Wardell.

Whales That Walked.

Whales used to walk. That is the statement of Prof. d'Arcy Thompson, authority on fishes of the sea, in a lecture on that subject at the Royal institution, London. He said the whale originally had four feet or fins, but that the two hind ones had simply dwindled away. In bygone ages ancestors of the present family of whales walked about much as seals do.

Fitting Children in Gloves They Will Like

Whether you have a small son, just starting to school, or a daughter, who considers herself almost "a young lady," your problems in gloving childish hands are quite specialized ones, notes a writer in the Kansas City Star. For there are many points to be considered in selecting children's gloves which do not apply when you buy your own.

You sometimes will find children's gloves in the regular department, where special counters and chairs for children are provided. Usually, however, you will go to the children's or junior department for them. Children's sizes run from 0000 to 7. And since the child's hand is growing, and since it needs more freedom, anyway, than a grown-up's hand does, the glove should not be fitted too tightly.

You will have no difficulty in finding almost any material, style and color of glove you want, for the making of children's gloves has become a specialized phase of the glove industry. In general, the little soft, plump hand will be best fitted and most comfortable in fine textured leather.

Some popular children's gloves, too, are made of wash fabrics and the lighter leathers, such as are generally used for women's gloves.

Then there are mittens, both of knitted stuff and of leather, which are especially appropriate for the younger children. The older boy and girl often like them, too, for sports wear, since, other things being equal, they are much warmer than gloves. They are not, of course, so well suited to dress wear, at least for the older children.

When it comes to buying gloves for the young girl who wears misses' things, the principal point to remember is that they should be specially designed for her, cut to fit her hand, and should not be merely small women's gloves. This generally means that the fingers of the glove will be shorter and the hand part proportionately broader than they are in women's gloves.

Pearls, Flowers, Among Prominent Accessories

By her accessories you will know her, the woman of 1924. Her gown is straight and simple and permits of few elaborations. The accessories must be few and well chosen, pearls will have a place. A judiciously placed flower or the manner in which she wears her jewelry are depended upon to supply the note of sophistication. A clever contrast in black and white is present in a choker necklace of black pearls worn with a long strand of white baroque pearls.

Especially effective to bring out the coloring of the blond is a shaded yellow velvet rose on the shoulder of the gown, matching a gold choker necklace. Another necklace which contrasts black and white pearls alternates a group of white pearls with a single black one; a sort of tassel is formed by a dangling string of the pearls. Or one may knot her pearls as many times as her taste and the length of the strand allow.

For Sports Wear

Topcoats for sports wear frequently have an upstanding collar of leopard, fitch, or some other noticeable fur. Some of the coats, in black wool, are lined with gay plaid, and these are not likely to have the fur collar.

Colors for Evening

Among the colors for evening accessories, such as fans, stockings and jewelry popular today, are sea green, jade green, American beauty, pale blue, turquoise, sunset and rose.

"Fireproof" Orientals.

Orientals seem to be immune to the fierce heat in the fireroom in ocean steamers and endure for a great length of time temperature that would shrivel white men.

AMUSEMENTS

Pola—Paris—Lubitsch!

"Montmartre" has all three--and more. Pola Negri's latest Paramount picture, which was shown for the first time at the Met theater yesterday is a story of the Latin Quarter of the French capital, directed by the man who made "The Marriage Circle," etc. Ernest Lubitsch.

For those who remember the Pola of "Passion" and her other continental triumphs, we'll say that the popular star first made her famous. You have to go way back to the days of "Passion," etc., to find anything that even begins to measure up to "Montmartre." It has something for everyone—love, humor, pathos, thrills, big scenes and all the rest. It is our humble opinion, all due respect to her earlier American made picture, that "Montmartre" is about the best thing that Pola Negri has one for the screen to date.

We've been promised a picture like "Montmartre" for a long time, a picture in which Pola would again be seen in the type of character the public likes to see her.

SCHOOL MEETING

Neighboring Townships Render Good Program at South Bloomfield.

The people of the South Bloomfield community met at the school auditorium Wednesday night, November 26, and listened to a well rendered program, furnished by representatives of nearby townships.

The song, "America," was sung by the congregation and invocation was given by Rev. Mr. Vaughn of Monroe township. The address of welcome was by Rev. Mr. Harbaugh, of South Bloomfield and Mulhenberg township responded with a vocal solo by Miss Ruth Robbins with Miss Mary Clark at the piano.

Scioto township being called, Superintendent Sites responded with a short well worded speech and his mixed quartet sang beautifully.

Monroe being called Rev. Vaughn Fern Porter, Samuel Clevenger, William Fausnaugh and Floyd Riley came to the, stage. Rev Vaughn talked sang and played the piano; Samuel Clevenger gave a humorous reading; Miss Porter, a vocal solo; Billy and Floyd rendered some fine music on their violins. When Jackson township was called Miss Fannie Rowe sang two of her favorite solos with her sister, Bernice, at the piano. Mr. Bray's little granddaughter, of Columbus, entertained royally with some work she is taking in the Columbus schools.

Mr. H. W. Plum, of Circleville, spoke on school expenses as compared with money spent on luxuries. His talk was short, spicy and to the point and we trust it did a great deal of good.

The people of South Bloomfield feel very grateful to those neighbors for their assistance in making this meeting a success.

Burget on whom was found a gun, told Judge Barry, that he was unaware that it was against the law to carry a revolver. He was given a fine of $100. for carrying a gun and the costs for being intoxicated. Andy Burget failed to appear and his bail was forfeited.

If you want to get value out of a book, however, don't lean on it as though you were a cripple. A book can't take you by sheer force and project you into a good job, or put more money in your pay envelope, or make you industrious or patient when you are otherwise. All you can expect of a book is that it tells you how these things can be accomplished. The real job lies with you.

Christmas!!!

Yes it is almost here. The brisk days and flying snow of the past week have helped us realize it. Its closeness though, is not a shock to us, for we have been working night and day since August first to give Circleville a real "Christmas Store."

The public knows of the kind of merchandise "The Watch Shop" has given it, from its inception until now, the ending of our Thirtieth Year. We truly believe that we have established for ourselves a reputation for RELIABILITY, (the biggest word in the Jewelry Business.) The name SENSENBRENNER on the package means to you and to the recipient real assurance of Quality, Truth and Honesty. We have a right to this conclusion from the very fact of your support for these Thirty Years.

Now, without in any manner interfering with our well filled Jewelry department, we have added a Gift Department of inexpensive "THOUGHTFUL GIFTS" that traveling men and visitors from large cities tell us is the most complete and varied they have ever seen. We are buying merchandise from all corners of the globe from over One Hundred and Fifty firms. There are Thousands and thousands of different articles —a great many of them on our DOLLAR COUNTER. We have not shied at labor or expense to make this department as complete as we know how.

No business succeeds that derives its sole pleasure from the material proceeds of a sale. In the past, as now, it is our happiest moment when we HAVE JUST WHAT YOU WANT and can do it up for you in a package worthy of the season ready to present.

We are not telling you all this with the hope of any special favors or privileges, but we do feel that we have a right to expect you to make us an inspection visit. Then if you see something you can use, we want to lay it aside and pack it up for you. If there is nothing that strikes your fancy we appreciate your call just as much.

For us to try to enumerate the endless number of different articles in our store would be absolutely impossible. Many there are of which we have but one each---so the sooner you look, the greater the assortment. We will simply give you a few specials that we found and which we are putting out at exceptional prices to help you come to the store.

with that "fresh air" taste

Delicious—and so beautiful in their even shape and coloring. And little wonder! For they were baked with "fresh air"—in the wonderful oven of the Estate Gas Range. The fumes of burning gas never enter this oven—only fresh air, heated and sterilized by the exclusive Estate method, touches the food.

And this heated fresh air is distributed so uniformly throughout the oven that no matter in what part you place your baking, the same uniform results are certain. No "pot-watching", no shifting pans—the oven ends all this worry.

Decide today you'll be one of the many thousands of good cooks using the Estate. We'll gladly show you the range and all its features.

"MARCHETA"

Rehearsals Are Progressing Nice'y at Parish House—Tickets on Sale.

The Parish house on West Mound street is a very popular place of afternoons and evenings as the rehearsals for the Business and Professional Women's club play "Marcheta" began last Friday afternoon and will continue until the eleventh of this month.

The success of the play is assured, due to the fact that those who are taking part are becoming somewhat more experienced than amateurs. The play itself contains quite a bit of comedy and the members of the different committees are doing some real work to put it over bigger and better than any thing the club has attempted.

The director, Mr. E. M. Thornton, of the Harrington Adams Producing Co., is well pleased with the talent furnished him as well as the hearty co-operation of the members of the club. The principals and choruses are being rapidly whipped into shape and by the time for the first performance, everything will be completed to make "Marcheta" the best home talent show ever presented in Circleville.

Mrs. Roy Davis, chairman of the ticket committee, started the ticket-selling campaign and has placed tickets in hands of every member of the club and many members of the cast. The price of the tickets is $1 and time to have seats reserved will be announced later.

The club considers itself fortunate in securing the services of Miss Abbe Mills Clarke as accompanist.

Don Estaban Pompo — Mack Parrett.
Dona Farina — Miss Reynolds.
Marcheta—Mrs. Frank Kline Jr.
Welland Strong—John Gallaher.
Pepa—Miriam Ruggles.
"Chuck" McCracken— George Hitler.
Sam—Bill Pickens.
Millie—Eleanor Snyder.
Boris Koffadroff—"Bozo" Vanscoy.
Mrs. Ruth Rutherford — Ruth Reichlederfer.
Mannella—Hester Bentley.
Alexis—Edward Ebert.
Ricardo—Lawrence Jeffries.

The eight choruses in the play and the time for rehearsals are:

Lots of Kisses group at 5 o'clock.
Street Chorus—five-thirty.
Russian Ballet—six.
Gypsy Dancers—six-thirty.
Spanish Peasants—seven.
Spanish Ballet—seven-thirty.
Chatter Group—eight.
Bridesmaid—eight-thirty.

The chorus of forty tiny tots practice from 3:30 until 4:30.

BENZOL GAS

"The King of Motor Fuel"

It's a fact that Caldwell and Taylor's Benzol Gas gives much greater mileage than gasoline. Scientific tests prove it. Motorists quickly discover it because they find that the intervals between fillings are longer.

Caldwell and Taylor's Benzol Gas is truly the king of motor fuels. Quicker pickup than any gasoline produced, lower motor temperatures and freedom from motor knocks are characteristics of its performance.

Its popularity is increasing by leaps and bounds. Most motorists who try it will not return to the use of gasoline again.

The most convincing arguments for its use is in the satisfaction you will receive when you try it. Give Benzol a chance to prove its value in your motor.

SHOP EARLY

Postoffice Department Asks Hearty Cooperation of People.

The Shop Early, Mail Early campaign inaugurated by Postmaster General New last year proved to be an unqualified success. It was of great benefit to the people and also enabled postoffice employes to deliver all the Christmas mail before noon on December 25. The department again this year asks the hearty cooperation of the public in order that the record made last year may be equalled, if not excelled.

When you shop early you are helping the clerks in the postoffice to eat their dinners home and you are greatly benefiting yourselves. You have a greater chance to secure a better selection of gifts from the stores, you have more time to wrap them securely and you are sure that they will arrive at their destination in time to be opened Christmas morning. You are also relieving the burdens on the clerks behind the counters in the stores, and you are giving a practical demonstration of the good will that Christmas time signifies. Acting Postmaster General John H. Bartlett requests that you refrain from using small envlopes in sending your Christmas cards as this very greatly retards the sorting and distribution of the mails.. Let all of us pull together this year, do our shopping early and do our mailing early, let's make it a genuine old-fashioned Christmas celebration.
